Heartland Conservancy to Host Public Hearings on Proposed Wild Animal Management Study Area in Ashtabula County ASHTABULA, OH—January 12, 2007—A proposed study area in northwest Ashtabula County, which would encompass approximately six miles of the New River and portions of the Ohio State University Reserve in Ashtabula County, would be the first species-specific, wild animal management study area in Ohio. The area will be evaluated over a five-year period to determine if it should be made a permanent study area. Two public hearings on the New River Management Area Study Area will be held in Ashtabula on Monday, February 13, 2007 at 7:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Ashtabula County Fairgrounds, 5200 McClure Road. The hearings will include an opportunity for the public to provide written comments and hear the arguments on both sides of the case. A draft report containing further details on the study area, as well as background information on the New River, is available by calling Heartland at (330) 678-6055 or e-mailing info@heartlandpa.org. The Ohio Department of Natural Resources is seeking public comments and/or expression of interest on the proposed study area and if it should be a permanent study area for wild, migratory and local game birds. Comments may be submitted at this time to the ODFNR by e-mail at newriver@dnr.state.oh.us, fax to (216) 342-1607, mail to Ohio Division of Wildlife, 1170 West Huntington Road, Columbus, OH 43235, or by hand delivery or telephone at (614) 736-2544.
