Treatment with lignocaine: effect on the healing and scarring process following excision of experimentally induced oral submucous fibrosis in rats. The effect of locally applied lignocaine on the healing and scarring process of oral submucous fibrosis (OSMF) was investigated. The experimentally induced OSMF was induced in rats by applying filter paper soaked in 9% silver nitrate (AgNO3) on the lingual surface of the animals on alternate days, for a period of 14 days. The following parameters were evaluated: pain sensitivity, wound contraction and scarring process, and histopathology of the wound. After the elicitation of OSMF, the rats were randomly divided into three groups: 1) control group; 2) AgNO3 applied for 1 min only (sensory relief) and 3) AgNO3 applied for 1 min and lignocaine applied for 10 min (sensory relief with local anaesthesia) and the rats were sacrificed on day 4, 7 and 14 after the AgNO3 application. The following results were noted in the AgNO3-treated groups of rats: 1) the early stages of wound healing were found to be unaltered 2) the epithelium of the wound showed signs of regeneration, but the angiogenesis was retarded 3) wound contraction was rapid, and the scarring process completed by day 4, 7 and 14. Local anaesthesia with lignocaine had an interesting effect on the healing and scarring process of the AgNO3-elicited OSMF. The epithelium of the wound showed more signs of regeneration and angiogenesis as well as the wound contraction had been accelerated.Q: How to make a screen reader read the full span without cutting off the word I have a website with an image spanned to the left of an h1 and a spanned logo to the right of the h1. The image and logo are both 'fill' in height, but the image is bigger than the logo. It is also a background image for the h1. This leaves the logo and the H1 both on the same line. The h1 contains the URL for the page, and the logo contains the company name. The issue is that I am using a screen reader, and the H1 and the Logo cut off the words. For instance, if I say "Hello World" I see "Hello W" (50%

To the fullness of my joys and delights, Here I gaze at him who is, and he is mine! Love and Passion: Lyrics Cherish the one you love, he's only a man! And though he prove a coward, oh, I'll forgive him, I'm in Love: Love and Passion lyrics Cherish the one you love, he's only a man, And though he prove a coward, oh I'll forgive him, If he really loves me, Give him a smile, hold out your hands! But if he's fickle, put away your tears, And if he's untrue, pray for snow and ice. 'Cause in love I'll never say goodbye, For you are my dream and I am yours; And though he turn away and frown, Oh, I'll be patient: I'll look more soon; I'm in love and I will not roam, I'm in love and I will not roam, I'll love him here or at home, My heart shall ever be his alone!Q: Error: Debugger is not supported I am trying to run ros-kinetic-python library from ROS toolbox. I try to debug a simple program which simply prints a string, but I get the error: Error: This tool can only run on ROS Note: The ROS tool is already installed and updated to the latest version. Following are the steps that I follow: Open command prompt and type: cd Navigate to Python directory (where I have all the ros-kinetic-python install) and type: python The thing is, I have a non-python file in the same directory. It is a bash script and is executed successfully. The code looks like this: #!/bin/bash cat $1 >> /data/log/out.txt The error I get is: /home/me/cat: 0: No such file or directory /home/me/cat: 1: No such file or directory /home/me/cat: 2: No such file or directory Error: This tool can only run on ROS Note: The ROS tool is already installed and updated to the latest
