artistic pursuits. This is the time to make a change. You can either go the academic route, or the selftaught route. If you have the confidence and resources, by all means, take the academic route. The advantage that this route has is that it will challenge you and make you work hard at a subject you probably would have hated growing up. It is at this time that you will first get a true appreciation for art. You will realize that you would never have made the same kind of art that you do if you didn't take the time to learn how to. If you have the determination and desire, then
