The software should be used with utmost discretion as it is on a par with software used by law enforcement agencies. Though the software is a powerful diagnostic tool, it can also be used for malicious activities. If the data within the password-protected virtual windows is accessed in ways other than through the web browser, the entire VM can be exploited. And the password is automatically sent to the server, which means that the server will receive the credentials along with the captured data that the user opened. The software is powerful but not as efficient as any of the highly in-demand remote access solutions available online. Even though the software is the most cost effective of all the remote access solutions, you will still require a mobile device and a Wi-Fi connection, thus depending on the location. For security reasons, the software cannot be used to deliver private messages or display network activity. If the user does not clear the clipboard after using the software, the captured data can be misused. The Gen IT software is suitable for monitoring and scanning the network. Even though the Gen IT software is capable of detecting basic network activity, like device logins, it is not able to access any file or folder. The software can only analyze access attempts, but it will not be able to access any file or directory. The free download software is compatible with a range of platforms, including iOS and Android. With this software, you will be able to remotely control the network to a certain extent. The software will not enable you to perform tasks such as access files, mount a drive or make changes to the configuration.
