What's new:

 Vol. 2 This is a collection of shaders that I created for the game, the shaders are written as washi files that should be able to be incorporated into custom graphics files (that you write out yourself). This pack is the one that I am currently using and it fits with the game engine and project I am using. They work with everything pretty well for my style and I use them frequently, I have adjusted the current version a bit and changed the terminology a bit to incorporate my own ways as I have learned them. I have found other packs and shaders and have adjusted my shaders to fit these other packs but I don't think all these others have been integrated into the game and different elements take up different looks in a different environment. I am providing tutorials on how to use the shaders and I provide samples for the different elements, you can see my guides: NOTE: I have gotten requests for different shaders, either for their mods or custom maps and I have decided to create shaders that act as a lighting source to show the different lighting effects of the shaders. I would like to leave a trial to give you an idea but to get a feel for the code be sure to visit these links:

In WarPlan, you will command one of 70 different military factions in the Second World War, including Germany, Britain, France, the Soviet Union, Italy and Japan. For most of these nations, you will play the role of either the nation's general (which determines whether you are played in the original color or black and white) or the nation's prime minister (which determines what nation you will play as). Day 1 You may deploy troops either at the turn based Quick-Play mode or at the turn based Enduring-Game mode. In the Quick-Play mode, you will deploy troops to replace troops that have suffered war damage. Day 1 is meant to get you acquainted with the game mechanics, as well as introduce the four major nations of WWII. Over the next 7 days, you will learn how to gain territory, build units, trade resources, and declare war. Day 7 Day 7 covers the battle scenarios. The game is able to depict several days worth of battles by incorporating Day 1 and Day 2 maps. In the Enduring-Game mode, you will be able to buy, transport, and build units at the turn based Economy mode. In the Enduring-Game mode, you will be able to make peace with one of the smaller nations or declare war on a larger nation. Day 14 Day 14 covers the battle scenarios. The game is able to depict several days worth of battles by incorporating Day 1 and Day 2 maps. In the Enduring-Game mode, you will be able to buy, transport, and build units at the turn based Economy mode. In the Enduring-Game mode, you will be able to make peace with one of the smaller nations or declare war on a larger nation. In addition to the regular campaign, there is a sandbox mode available. In the sandbox mode, you can play on any map you want, with any nation you want. In the sandbox, you will be able to choose a nation and any of its attributes at will. For example, you may choose to play in the United States of America, with the U.S. Army, in the Soviet Union, with the Soviet Red Army and with the Red Star. You may choose to play as a leader of Germany, the United Kingdom, or the Soviet Union.
