Efilm workstation keygen.Q: Dynamically selecting input type from list I'm trying to set a class of "date" to an input of type date with jquery on button click, and use $(this) to get the corresponding input. The list of input type is in a ul. when I click on any button I can see all the inputs of type date, but the variable this comes back as button so all the input belong to the last button clicked. What I need is some way to select the input with id "select_date" using $(this) and get its value this is the script I'm using $(document).ready(function(){ $('#change_month').click(function(){ var date = $('#select_date'); console.log($(this)); }); }); HTML: c6a93da74d
