KEYMACRO is an affordable plug-in, designed to generate sequential macro codes in MS Outlook 2003/2007. The plug-in allows the user to easily create, insert and print a sequential batch of pre-defined macro codes, within the system. When pre-defined macros are created, they can then be used for any operations like, creating a new folder, renaming a file, copying or deleting a file etc. Features:

Highly customizable code creation by programming your own macro with any VB6, C#, VB.NET, JScript, Visual Basic.NET or VBA code, as well as setting data type, formatting, length etc. The code creation process is really easy and can be done even if you are not familiar with programming. With this application, it is possible to save your own codes, so you can use them later. Generate a batch of codes with a click, and print them all at once. It provides you with a high level of user-friendly functionality. Multiple programming languages support Support for Windows 2000, 2003, Vista, 7, 8 and later. Take advantage of this utility to schedule and send reminders via email, even while you are not in Outlook. All features can be easily accessed through the built-in intuitive User Interface.

Print Preview Mode

Understand and customize your code by seeing all the options you have in a print preview window.

Built-in help file

The program's Help file, a real time-saver, is an invaluable tool for understanding what each code does, and when and where to use it. The help file is highly customizable, and it will help you by showing exactly what each macro does and how it can be used. KEYMACRO works with two files, the first is the code generator, and the other is the data file. The code generator file is placed in a directory where you wish to save the generated codes. The generated codes can be used for any operations like, creating a new folder, renaming a file, copying or deleting a file etc. The data file is a file where data for each code is stored. Key Macro Generator was tested on Win XP SP3.

However, the tool will work on all later versions of Windows. What is new in version

3.0.0.0: Added features for .NET, Visual Basic, C++ and JScript. Added additional code snippet options. Added 2edc1e01e8
