NOVA radionica creating new civilization designers: Bojan Jani Kvamil Brankovic (neue) Shotoko Hishimoto Vojislav Vukovic Sanja Zvzdic (theone) what is this game? Build the most ambitious metro (underground city) worldwide Using a new system of building, cut and glue Build thousands of unique apartments Tons of different types of shops Statues, structures, skyscrapers, bridges and tunnels Fully upgradeable building (not only full upgraded 1995 TN14) Ambient sounds and music Vector graphics / tiny objects A special and unique city Story "My mother doesn't want to take me to the operating room" "The doctors say she has just a half-hour to live" "You're lying! She's not sick!" "Mommy, I'm scared" When you hear these words you will think: "Motherhood... Is this what it's all about?" The thought of a mother dying will stir and get to your heart. You will feel like a cat that's racing into the street. "Where do I stop? Is it dangerous to stop on the road? I'm not going to take the risk." -- this is the feeling that will rise and catch hold of you. However, what you see around you -- full of cars and people, no doubt, a moment like this is a "normal" situation, isn't it? For a few seconds, your heart stops, then begins to race, and finally, you do what you have to do. "Can I trust these doctors?" "I'm going to take her to the operating room" "Mommy, I'm going to bring you good things" "Mommy, mommy, please don't die" "Mommy, mommy" "I love you" "Mommy..." "You're going to get better" "You're going to be okay" "Mommy, mommy..." The girl pressed her hand against the glass and stared at the buses and cars; they looked so ordinary, everyone was having a good time. Suddenly, an anxious feeling crept over her and she began to feel warm, and her heart began to pound. The above was her mother's last wish. At that moment, the girl

You've fought long and hard to get where you are. -D Day and Operation Overlord: Command a Panther tank and see who will win the day! In Panzer Knights, players will experience the

What's new:

The Vagabond Starship is a solar car built in the United States by a young South African, but now based in Italy, for the long-distance Solar Challenge racing competition. The CarbonFLEX Solo car, which weighs over 600 kg, did not reach its intended finishing time and was no-contest winner in the solar challenge, held in August 2009. History The VSS won the Flinders Trophy in Australia, and in the 2009 long distance competition in the USA, finishing second. At its most successful, it did not finish in any competitions in Australia. Operational history The solar powered crew could access in the 2009 competition with range of the car, more than any other car in the race. The car could not refuel, so crew were towed to the end of the race after a number of solar charging opportunities. After a team member passed out close to the end, Bärbel Hönisch was dropped and was towed backwards after the no-contest final classification. Performance Driving speed Setting out from the South Australian capital, Adelaide, the VSS was required to do a lap of the 2,772 km course, which crosses 500 kilometres of deserts, tracks, cities and other typical Australian highways, in approximately 24 hours. The speed achieved by the VSS was measured at a figure of 6.34 km/h, which was recorded to be the fastest speed for a solar powered vehicle. Final position In the 2009 race that highlighted the competition, the VSS finished in the second position, and charged a total of 4,659 kilowatt hours (kWh) of electricity. Defeat by number While the VSS took second place to the Beardmore, the team drew the least number of cars due to the high number of rule infringements, amongst the 177 teams that started the 2009 race. 2010 Participants Australia The 2010 competition was held in Australia for the second time in the 11-year competition's history. For the 2010 competition, the ACES team, Desert Solar, returned as the sole Australian participant. The Eastern Districts Supercharger club returned after its official retirement in 2009 to "make a final try at a challenge". They were the only two teams from Australia, however, all other teams were from the USA. There were no Australian teams in the Flinders Trophy overall in 2010 (the most well known of Australia

Any good journey is a life journey - is a quote taken from our game. If you've ever dreamed about a real space flight, now is the time to fulfill your dreams! After the astronaut Scipio makes his first step on Mars, he will fly farther and farther. It will be hard, adventurous and endless. Approximately 20,000 meters and the colonist will take a lot of time to go there to the farthest point, further than the solar system. Use your skills and various obstacles to win, get achievements and surprise yourself in different situations. Enjoy your travel in the future! You can select in the main menu the "Arena" section. At the Arena, you can find bosses you can improve your skill in a duel. You can find level of difficulty and card you can hone your skill. Several difficulties have their sublevels. In the final of a boss, you'll be able to go to another chapter. Also you can do the "Builders" section and improve your skills of building. You'll be able to do the same at the Earth. The planet is very interesting, you will be able to join the meetings of your allies. You will be able to work and research. If you gain more achievements, you can learn new skills. You can check your position with the landing point arrow on the map in the main menu. The game is linear. You will be able to reach the main location. We recommend playing all of this, and we'll tell you later how to reach the end of the game. In this game you will not find a photo album. You will be able to work and research.
