Bengal tigers live in India and are sometimes called Indian tigers. They are the most common tigers and make up about half of all wild tigers. For many centuries, Bengal tigers were the most numerous large cats inhabiting Asia. They are the largest predatory cats in the world. Their average weight is 120-150 kg, but some individuals can reach a weight of 200 kg. Some males can weigh up to 250 kg or even more. However, most males weigh an average of 150-160 kg, while females are much smaller, their weight does not exceed 100 kg. Bengal tigers mostly live in rainforests and forest areas.

tiger (plural tiger, female tigress) . (See the entry on "tiger" in Webster's Revised Unabridged Dictionary, G. & C. Merriam, 1913.) So, "tigress" is "tiger" feminine? Or is it "tiger" feminine? Also, what is a tiger cub? But it already depends on the context in which the word is used. The word "tiger cub" can be used as a singular or plural noun depending on the context. If the word is used to describe an animal (e.g. tiger cub, tigress, tiger), then "tiger" is male and "tigress" is female.
