This means you can't use it to find plagiarism in your business documents, for example. It also means you can't use the same service for both email and document checking. 4. Grammarly is pretty expensive The truth is, Grammarly is one of the more expensive solutions you can get for your Office applications. For $29.99 a month, you can use Grammarly on Word and Outlook. If you're a student, you can try the premium version of the software for $19.99 a month. Finally, you can get Grammarly as a standalone web application for $17.99 a month. 5. Grammarly is not for everyone If you're a casual writer, you'll find Grammarly a bit over your head. It
