You'll learn the .U.S. Pat. No. 4,472,828 discloses a photoconductive element in which each layer of an organic photoconductor (OPC) is sandwiched between a hole transport material and an electron transport material. The electron transport material is selected so that, for example, it is n-type. Hence, holes injected from an anode are transported through the electron transport layer to the top surface of the element and moved through the top surface by the electric field

The present invention relates to a transmission and reception switching circuit, a communication apparatus, and a communication method. 2.
Description of the Related Art Various kinds of network communication systems, such as a video conference system, a multipoint video telephone system, and a video file transfer system, are known as communication systems for transmitting and receiving image data through a network such as the Internet. Further, methods are known in which users who use communication apparatuses on a network, such as image signal transmitting apparatuses and image signal receiving apparatuses, exchange image data, such as image data for which communications are performed between a user on a network and another user through a network, with each other. Furthermore, for example, a communication apparatus is known in which image data is transmitted and received through a network in a unified manner by using a public communication path, such as a public network and a public line, and an internal communication path, such as a LAN (local area network). In this type of communication apparatus, a problem occurs in that a communication error can occur in a communication apparatus operating on a public communication path. In order to solve this problem, communication is performed between a communication apparatus operating on the public communication path and a communication apparatus operating on the internal communication path, using a predetermined protocol, such as VTC (Video Teleconferencing) for performing communications of an image signal in a video conference system, a video file transfer protocol for performing communications of an image file in a video file transfer system, and a file transfer protocol of ISDN (Integrated Services Digital Network) ( edd6d56e20
