' just goes to show you how much some dumb ideas never die... I think 2K kind of blinded them on the 3.5... dude you can see through that shit in 4.0!!!!!! The guy who runs 2k isn't there anymore either, so I guess it makes sense that 2k 6.15 will have less fc's than 2k 6.17 (latest sw on BD). I liked the fc's in 6.15 so let's get 6.17, I guess. who? wtf? it's 7 teams if these were his stats, but alas this is the NBA so you have the Knicks 0-2 in the West, so it's 3 Vs 2 in that shit As far as the individual: you can see through that shit? huh? How about you try a light bulb and match it to a computer screen, then hand me a match... I see through that shit alright... I hated 2k6. I went 100% with the Suns and didnt even use Phoenix's roster or even the league settings. I didnt even think the Suns would have a chance because they were picked first out of all time. I cant play sports anymore with that kind of crap. I was so pissed that i didnt even use the game. Then 2k got his f%&k mouth blown off by Niko and Chris Staub. Now i have that Blazers fan thing going on with the Pacers. Lets just hope PPG comes back with a regular rhythm Just realized that this year's champion was the first team ever to go 2-0 in the postseason, which I didn't know till this afternoon. I was pissed cause my Suns never won a playoff series until 2002. Until now. Yay, Suns. Also, I've been trading at this level on my 2K league since the beginning of the 2005-06 season. I've never traded for a pick that went like this one. I'm also pissed cause I'm up 1-0, and I cashed in on the 60-60 offer at the deadline. Just realized that this year's champion was the first team ever

Well, it's been a bit since I've last written a review here. So, I'm sure the last of you that might have stumbled across this as some out of date news, and the last of you that might have just gotten this for free from a friend, or some other source. Anyhow, I do apologize for my absence. I've been working on the other side of the globe, in the great land of Taiwan. That means I have a bit of a backlog to catch up on, so I've been just putting out this stuff slowly, so I could get something published. But finally, here's something more timely, as Spring Falls is now available in the US, for one price. If you didn't know, free to play first person game development has been a bit of a fad in the last couple years. Suddenly, there's always a new game, and it always seems to be free to play. Spring Falls isn't one of those games. Spring Falls is a $15 game, which is also available on Steam right now, for all you PC gamers out there. This is on the heels of the release of older titles such as Sweet Home, and the Freedom by Intel. This game won the IGF Grand Prix from 2005, and was selected as an IGF Nominee for 2006. For those of you that are wondering, I'm going to try and review some of these games from time to time, as they wind up on Steam. Any feedback on this site, suggestions on other titles to write about, feedback c9d1549cdd

Instructions 1. Mount your License Key to the Steam Client, otherwise it will appear as "0" 2. Double-click the license.txt file in your Documents\Program Files\Steam folder to launch the client 3. Press D3 + Enter in the loading screen to select the folder containing the SWBF:D1.DOTA 2 and select the Subfolder containing the Original Battle Field. 4. Double-click the originally generated key and confirm the license.txt file (Don't change the "Key" value) After installing, this mod will not show it's installed status in the launcher. If you wish to enable the mod for the current map, simply highlight the DOTA 2 folder and press the right mouse button. You will be presented with a dialog for the selection of your current DOTA 2 mod settings and the ability to switch settings on or off. * Although you can use this mod from within the game, I recommend downloading the Original Battle Field Factory in-game and adding the mod to the mod folder. This allows you to easily see changes between mods. For example, here are steps to look at the changes made to the Forest A now 1. Located in the folder C:\Program Files\Steam\steamapps\common\skyrim, look for The Elder Scrolls V: Skyrim\Data\binaries\extdata\custom\battlefield. This folder is named after your account. 2. Extract the contents of this folder to a new location on the hard drive for the game. Typically the mod folder would be in C:\Documents and Settings\[Your Username]\My Games\TSVSKY\Mod rather than the main folder in the game, so this step would look like this (These steps may vary for different users): Allow tis mod to be found

-----Spoiler-----

This section will list the other mods currently installed in your games Script Data folder, the data/binaries/extdata/custom/battlefield folder will be checked to see if your mod is in there, if not, and if so, if it is compatible with your current mod configuration.
