This is the horrifying moment a small plane crashed onto a busy roadway, killing six people including a baby and a pensioner. The Metrostar private plane, which left Cranbrook Airport in Cranbrook, Idaho, on Sunday morning, crashed into trees at the edge of the Strip on the Las Vegas strip. All six victims were from the small suburb of Cranbrook, which is about 30 miles southeast of Las Vegas. The Metrostar PA-28 was carrying three passengers on board and was being flown by one pilot when it crashed on the Strip at the Mt Charleston Boulevard exit, according to multiple reports. The pilot was found 'unconscious' and a four-year-old girl was found dead in the wreckage with multiple head injuries.
