In Ubuntu, when you right click on a.json file, an "Open with" dialog appears, it can be set to open with the Python json editor, but the app can be changed from here. How do I make it open the file in the default editor? A: Use gedit, this app can be changed from here too and it's kind of the default editor, so when the file is right clicked, this app will be used. A: You can install files with whatever app you like. Install any app you like by: sudo apt-get install
