Q: If I create a "Standard User Account" at logon, can I add additional users to it? if I create a "Standard User Account" at logon, will I be able to add additional users to it? A: At logon, if you want to create a Standard User Account, then no - you will not be able to add additional users to it. You can, however, create additional Log on Account at logon and use those for a set of accounts instead. Here is a good article on this: Q: ng-click not working when ajax call is made I have a modal dialog which when opened, loads some content in an ajax call and updates the page. The issue I have is that when I open the dialog, everything works fine, the content loads in the dialog and on click of the on a button, the data-uri with which I was passing to the server along with other parameters works fine. But when I close the dialog and come back to the the page, i.e. the page is refreshed, the click events of the buttons are not working. I have tried all the variations possible but none have worked so far. The only way I can get it to work, is if I don't close the dialog and instead keep it open. EDIT: the loaded content is not local html but it's from a REST call. Here is my modal dialog: Add New Result Add a Result:

Enhanced surface enrichment and functional performance of cobalt disulfide nanoparticles in erythrocyte membranes. Disulfide-containing polysaccharides exist as nanoscale structures, which may influence the interactions between the disulfides and the biological system, including the biological roles and functions. In this study, we have investigated the effect of chitosan-cobalt disulfide nanoparticles on erythrocyte membrane permeability, blood rheology, and its biocompatibility. Chitosan was used as a model polysaccharide for the bioconjugation. The formation of chitosan-cobalt disulfide nanoparticles and the effect of the chitosan/cobalt disulfide ratio on the nanoparticles size and membrane binding were investigated. The in vitro evaluation was performed with human erythrocytes. The in vivo evaluation was performed with an experimental animal (Sprague Dawley rat). The physicochemical characteristics, surface coating, and membrane binding of the synthesized nanoparticles were confirmed by potentiometric titration, Fourier transform infrared spectroscopy, dynamic light scattering, zeta potential, and atomic force microscopy analyses. The in vitro evaluation showed that the addition of the synthesized nanoparticles at a concentration of 0.1% w/v induced a significant increase (p If you're into any sort of cannabis consumption, chances are you've, at least at some point, been able to buy a tincture.
