On the Menzies Show this afternoon former prime minister Malcolm Turnbull confirmed that he will not recontest as Liberal leader and will throw his support behind Peter Dutton. “In the end my decision is that I will stand behind my mate Peter Dutton and he will be my deputy, and I’ll be his deputy,” Turnbull said. The announcement that Dutton will be replaced by Dr Keith Lornmon came as a surprise to Tony Abbott, but one that is not entirely unprecedented. Indications suggest that a number of Liberal MPs were hoping that the vote for Malcolm Turnbull would not be unanimous. “There’s no other way to put it — not all of our colleagues are 100 percent agreed that Malcolm Turnbull is the best leader they could have,” one Liberal MP told Sky News. “Many of them have known for a while they weren’t going to be able to get every single one of them on board. “So they kept an open mind and they knew that he might be removed in a leadership ballot and they didn’t want that to happen by ganging up against him.” According to a Liberal MP Malcolm Turnbull is the oldest standing Coalition Leader at 67, Tony Abbott is the youngest at 54. The fight for leadership will no doubt be the most closely watched in years, with the ramifications reverberating through the whole of Australian politics. People are often very frustrated with the point of view of a video game character or the angle of a movie character. The view that the character is in changes as the character moves. The view can be either fixed or, as in the case of 3D applications, it may change depending on what the character is looking at. These angles are often
