Don't let its tiny size fool you, Tex-Mechs is packed with big bugs and alien menace! Will you and the rest of your settlers survive this horde of insect enemies, or become the decimated remnants of a bug-splattered wasteland? Take your small force of colonists and build a new life in New Texas as you fight for freedom from alien control... or as you struggle under the endless onslaught of thousands of insects! Brag to your friends about the time you survived being crushed by a giant Beetle-Toad! Questions, comments, or bugs? Q: Show that there exists a positive integer  $k$  for which the following integer  $k!$  is divisible by  $10^4 + 1$  Show that there exists a positive integer  $k$  for which the following integer  $k!$  is divisible by  $10^4 + 1$  Answer: It is clear that  $10^4 + 1$  is divisible by  $10^{\{4-1\}}$ . We are given  $10^{\{4-1\}}$  so we have to see that it's multiple of  $10^4+1$ ; So,  $k!$  divided by  $10^{4-1}$  is  $k/10^{4-1}$ . If we notice that for  $k$  the term  $k/10^{4-1}$  is always an integer, we are done. But I don't know if this is correct, as I tried to take  $k=56$  for example but I got  $k!=8\cdot 10^4+6$ . A: c9d1549cdd
