1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an electronic device. The present invention relates to, for example, a display device which includes a pixel circuit in each pixel and a driving method of the display device.

2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, demands for liquid crystal display devices (LCDs) for use in mobile apparatuses such as mobile phones, digital cameras, and digital video cameras have been increasing. A TFT (thin film transistor) formed over a glass substrate is generally manufactured using amorphous silicon or polycrystalline silicon as a semiconductor material. The TFTs formed using amorphous silicon have low field effect mobility, but they can be formed over a larger glass substrate. On the other hand, the TFTs formed using polycrystalline silicon have high field effect mobility, but they need a crystallization step such as laser annealing and are not always suitable for being formed over a larger glass substrate. In view of the foregoing, attention has been drawn to a technique by which a TFT is formed over a glass substrate by using an oxide semiconductor material, for example, to achieve the improved performance of the TFT. For example, Patent Document 1 and Patent Document 2 disclose a technique by which a TFT is formed over a glass substrate by using zinc oxide or an In—Ga—Zn—O-based oxide semiconductor material.

Down-regulation of CDK4 expression in experimental liver fibrosis. The expression of the cyclin-dependent kinases (CDKs), cyclins and CDK inhibitors (CKIs), have been postulated to be involved in the pathophysiology of liver fibrosis. However, little is known about the level of expression of CKIs and the role of CDKs during the progression of experimental liver fibrosis. In the present study, we compared the expression of CDK4 and CKIs in normal and fibrotic livers from rats subjected to bile duct ligation (BDL). By Western blot, we showed that BDL induced the down-regulation of CDK4 protein expression in liver tissue. Using specific monoclonal antibodies, we observed that the decrease in CDK4 protein expression was mediated by a decrease in CDK4 mRNA.
