Also in FIFA 22, the "First Touch in Space" system was implemented to make play more realistic. This includes creating the sensation of transitioning from aerial techniques to another with various body parts, following the player's movement (like a block or a shot), and receiving a pass while in space from a teammate. To ensure authenticity, the pitch textures for the new surfaces have been recreated on real-life surfaces. For instance, the main stadium's pitch (Rose Bowl, Pasadena) uses real-world textures. The pitch of the LA Galaxy's StubHub Center is a hybrid of the real-life pitch and L.A. Galaxy's artificial turf. The U.S. Men's National Team's the Gillette Stadium pitch is recreated on-site, with fans and fieldwork in game. The new C4 motion-capture technology on the Xbox One X allows for higher-quality, more motion-capture-accurate gameplay, as well as additional gameplay features that make for a more realistic experience, and help further immerse the player in the game.
