Capture any book or PDF and convert it to readable text in just a few seconds..Q: What is the difference between a 'fixing' and a 'fluff'? It sounds like a simple question, but I'm just not sure how to express what I mean properly. A: Adding fluff is to add unnecessary information or make up a story to fill out the required story. Adding fixing is to fix the flaws of a story or piece of writing. A: Fixing means to give order, resolution, or remedy to. Fluff is the expression that is found in written content as well as in spoken content. It means to add too many extra words or details that does not have to be there. A: "Fluff" is filler, or a quick-and-easy way to put a few paragraphs of introduction, etc., onto a manuscript. It's a lazy writer's term. "Fixing" means to make up a coherent plot. Fixing it up - or fluffing it - means to make up extra plot details that aren't part of the original story. "When I was at Heald (in 2008), it was everything. The coach was Fabio Liverani and the team manager was Marco Baroni; they were immediately there for me. "But there's something special about this team and, more than anything else, there's a great atmosphere." "When they were picking the team the other day, I knew that I was one of the first names on the list. I didn't think about whether I should be there or not, I was just here to be part of the group." "They have an amazing rhythm, and they know how to do a lot of tactical things right: they have done
