User interface and importing/exporting options You are welcomed by a clean feature lineup that allows you to build up presentations via a multi-tabbed environment. You may define song and text, media files, as well as religious quotes from the Bible. You may import songs from EPC file format, add data from PPT file format, as well as export the song package to EPC file format. Create presentations EpicWorship offers you the possibility to choose between several preset songs that can be added to your presentations. In addition, you may search for songs, preview the lyrics in the main panel, edit lyrics data and save the changes, as well as view details about the title and author. A new presentation can be generated by simply providing a name. You can also keep a list with the items that are bundled within a presentation. What's more, you can add user-defined videos and select the religious text from the built-in Bible. You may choose passages from the Old or New Testament, chapter, as well as verses. Videos can be played on a specific day of the week and at a custom time (hours, minutes and seconds). Configuration settings EpicWorship lets you preview the presentation, opt for an animated or static background, change the picture displayed in the background, clear the screen or make it black, as well as alter the text in terms of color and size. Bottom line All things considered, EpicWorship integrates a handy suite of features for helping you generate religious presentations. On the downside, the layout cannot be described as highly intuitive, so it needs several improvements. My review of EpicWorship 5.0.2 b7e8fdf5c8
